2026 SERVICES GUIDE

Residential renovations

Construction management, interior finishes and custom millwork for the home.

North Jersey and Greater New York

Fluted vanity cabinetry by Horst.

A written scope

Before the walls open, decide what stays, what moves and who is responsible for each part of the work.

Residential renovations

Horst can plan and manage the agreed renovation, coordinate trade schedules and purchasing, and carry the work through the final walkthrough.

Cabinetry & millwork

If your general contractor is already in place, Horst can take on the cabinet package, from field verification and shop drawings to fabrication and installation.

CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT

Managing the work

Protect & prepare

Confirm the rooms in scope and protect adjacent spaces. Where the plan calls for selective demolition, identify what can be removed and what needs to stay.

Coordinate the trades

Sequence framing, drywall, electrical, plumbing and HVAC work around the layout. Track the purchases and finish decisions that affect installation.

Install & walk through

Coordinate flooring, tile and paint with cabinet installation. Walk the rooms together and record the remaining adjustments on a punch list.

The written proposal defines the work included in each project.

RENOVATION BY ROOM

Kitchens & baths

In a kitchen, settle the appliance locations and work surfaces before laying out the cabinets. In a bath, set the sink and plumbing positions, then size the vanity drawers, mirror and lighting.

MILLWORK SCOPE

Dressing rooms

Plan hanging heights, shoe shelves and island drawers around the wardrobe you own.

Shared spaces

Built-in bars, media walls and laundry cabinets carry storage into the rooms around the kitchen.
